SERIES ON TRANSITIONAL JUSTICE

The Series on Transition Justice offers a platform for high-quality research within the rapidly growing field of transitional justice. The research is, of necessity inter-disciplinary in nature, drawing from disciplines such as law, political science, history, sociology, criminology, anthropology and psychology, as well as from various specialised fields of study such as human rights, victimology and peace studies. Furthermore, the research is international in outlook, drawing on the knowledge and experience of academics and other specialists in many different regions of the world.

The series is aimed at a variety of audiences who are either working or interested in fields such as crime and justice; human rights; humanitarian law and human security; conflict resolution and peace building. These audiences include academics, researchers, students, policy makers, practitioners, non-governmental organisations and the media.

All books published within the series are subject to a double-blind peer review by recognised authorities in the field.

The General Editors of the Series are:
- Prof. Stephan Parmentier (Catholic University of Leuven, Belgium)
- Prof. Jeremy Sarkin (United Nations Working Group on Enforced or Involuntary Disappearances)
- Prof. Elmar Weitekamp (University of Tübingen, Germany)

The general editors receive the support from an Editorial Committee and an Advisory Board, consisting of internationally renowned academics and practitioners.

Published titles within the series:
5. Antoine Buyse (ed.), Margins of Conflict. The ECHR and Transitions to and from Armed Conflict (2011), 978-94-000-0157-2

SERIES ON TRANSITIONAL JUSTICE, Volume 11
RE-MEMBER

Rehabilitation, Reintegration and Reconciliation of War-Affected Children

Edited by
Ilse Derluyn, Cindy Mels, Stephan Parmentier and Wouter Vandenhole

intersentia
Cambridge – Antwerp – Portland
Re-Member. Rehabilitation, Reintegration and Reconciliation of War-Affected Children
Ilse Derluyn, Cindy Mels, Stephan Parmentier and Wouter Vandenhole (eds.)

© 2012 Intersentia
Cambridge – Antwerp – Portland
www.intersentia.com | www.intersentia.co.uk

ISBN 978-94-000-0027-8
NUR 828

No part of this book may be reproduced in any form, by print, photoprint, microfilm or any other means, without written permission from the publisher.
CONTENTS

Preface
Radhika Coomaraswamy .................................... v

Foreword
Jaap E. Doek .................................................. ix

Introduction
Children Affected by Armed Conflict at the Intersection of Three Fields of Study
Cindy Mels, Ilse Derluyn, Stephan Parmentier and Wouter Vandenhole ........................................ 1

PART I
SETTING THE SCENE: THREE DISCIPLINARY PERSPECTIVES

1. International Legal Protection for the Recovery and Reintegration of War-Affected Children
Bo Viktor Nylund ................................................ 35

   1. Introduction ........................................... 35
   2. Broad Protection for Recovery and Reintegration of War-Affected Children in International Law ........................................................................ 36
   5. The Use of Peace Agreements to Address Recovery and Reintegration for War-Affected Children .................................................. 51
   6. Conclusions ............................................. 56

2. Psychosocial Well-Being and the Integration of War-Affected Children:
   Toward a Community Resilience Approach
Michael Wessells .................................................. 57

   1. A Holistic Conceptualisation of Impact .................... 60
      1.1. Diversity .............................................. 60
Contents

1.2. Everyday Distress ........................................... 61
1.3. Implications for Practice ................................. 62
2. A Community Resilience Approach ......................... 64
  2.1. Conceptualising Community Resilience ............. 66
  2.2. Prevention ............................................. 68
  2.3. Community Reconciliation ............................ 69
3. Do No Harm .................................................. 71
  3.1. Minimising the Need for Support ................... 72
  3.2. Complexities of “Community” and Power Dynamics .... 72
  3.3. Romanticised Views of Culture ..................... 73
  3.4. Short-term Approaches ............................... 74
  3.5. Weak Evidence Base .................................. 74

3. Integrating Transitional Justice and Disarmament, Demobilisation and Reintegration: The Need to Achieve Rehabilitation, Reintegration and Reconciliation for Child Soldiers and Child Victims of Enforced Disappearances
Jeremy Sarkin ................................................. 77
1. Introduction .................................................. 77
2. How War Affects Children .................................. 79
3. Developments to Deal with Acts Perpetrated Against Children during Conflict ........................................ 81
4. Developments on the Use of Child Soldiers .................. 83
5. Children as Direct and Indirect Victims of Enforced Disappearances ........................................... 84
6. Resources and Mechanisms to Address the Problems of War-Affected Children ........................................... 88
7. Achieving Rehabilitation, Reintegration and Reconciliation for War-Affected Children ............................... 90
8. Safety ......................................................... 94
9. Mourning and Remembrance ................................ 94
10. Reconnection ................................................... 96
11. Counselling and Therapy ................................... 97
12. Conclusion ..................................................... 99
PART II
LESSONS LEARNT FROM CURRENT PRACTICES
AND APPROACHES

4. And the Children Learned not to Cry: Stories About Children and Transitional Justice in Latin America
Javier Ciurlizza ................................................................. 105

1. Introduction ...................................................................... 105
2. Transitional Justice .......................................................... 107
3. Transitional Justice and Children ...................................... 109
4. Modelling Transitional Justice in Latin America .............. 111
5. Child Involvement in Transitional Justice in Latin America. 112
   5.1. Children and Truth-Telling Mechanisms ...................... 112
   5.2. The “Nunca Más” for Children in Argentina ................. 113
   5.3. The Ongoing Drama of Children in Colombia ............. 115
   5.5. The Peruvian TRC and the Elusive Issue of Children ...... 119
   5.6. Demographics and Criminality ................................. 122
6. Conclusion ......................................................................... 123

5. Still to come ....................................................................... xx

6. 'We Have Life Without Living': Addressing The Legacies of Genocide for Rwanda’s Children And Youth
Kirrily Pells ........................................................................... 127

1. Introduction ...................................................................... 127
2. ‘Ihamamuka’: Breathless With Fear ................................ 129
3. ‘Acts Of The Everyday’ ..................................................... 131
4. Programming Approaches With Children and Young People in Rwanda ............................................... 133
   4.1. The Social Sphere: Making, Breaking and Transforming Relationships ........................................ 135
   4.2. The Economic Sphere: Living Now, Building for the Future ..................................................... 142
   4.3. The Cultural Sphere: Meaning Making and Cultural Scripting ................................................. 146
   4.4. The Political Sphere: ‘Performed’ or ‘Lived’ Participation ......................................................... 150
5. Conclusion: Rehumanising Rights ........................................ 155
7. Rehabilitating Separated Children Through Holistic, Community-Based Models
Jessica Muir and Elhum Shakerifar ........................................ 159

1. Introduction ................................................................. 159
2. Dost’s Casework Model .................................................. 160
   2.1. The Present: Dealing with Secondary Stresses First ........ 160
   2.2. The Past: Building Stories on Secure Foundations ....... 164
   2.3. Casework in Dost’s Context ..................................... 166
   2.4. The Future: Circular Routes Forward ......................... 167
3. Community Rehabilitation ............................................... 169
4. Conclusion .............................................................. 173

8. Release and Reintegration of Child Soldiers: One Part of a Bigger Puzzle
Lucia Withers ............................................................... 175

1. Overview of Children’s Involvement in Armed Conflict ....... 175
2. DDR Developments and Concerns .................................... 178
   2.1. Releasing Children in Situations of Armed Conflict – Prevention Better Than Cure ........ 179
   2.2. Post-Conflict Release and Reintegration – A Long-Term Project ............................. 181
   2.3. Improving Access to Reintegration Support .................. 183
   2.4. Invisible Children ................................................... 184
   2.5. Working with Communities ...................................... 185
3. Conclusion .............................................................. 187

9. No Return Home: The (Non-)Reintegration of Youth Ex-Combatants in Sierra Leone as A Challenge to The Contextualisation of DDR and Transitional Justice
Martien Schotsmans ......................................................... 189

1. Research Question and Methodology ................................. 189
2. Conflict and Peace Background ....................................... 191
3. Children and Youth in The Sierra Leone Conflict .............. 192
4. The Reintegration of Children and Youth in Sierra Leone .... 195
   4.1. Disarmament, Demobilisation and Reintegration ........ 195
   4.2. No Return Home ................................................... 197
   4.3. Fear for Retribution and Rejection ............................. 198
5. Why They Not Return Home ........................................... 200
   5.1. Lack of Youth Accountability ................................. 200
       5.1.1. Criminal Prosecutions ................................... 201
       5.1.2. Truth and Reconciliation Commission ................. 202
5.1.3. Traditional Practices ........................................ 202
5.1.4. Traditional Values ........................................ 204
5.1.5. Current Tradition-Based Projects .......................... 206
5.2. Lack of Traditional Leaders' Accountability ................. 207
5.2.1. Role of Traditional Leaders with Regard to the War ... 207
5.2.2. Traditional Leaders after the War .......................... 208
5.2.3. Lack of Accountability of Traditional Leaders .......... 209
5.3. Reintegrating into a Traditional Context ..................... 210
6. Conclusion ...................................................... 214

10. Support to the Education and Livelihoods of War-Affected
Children and Youth in Northern Uganda
Ann Lorschiedter and Femke Bannink-Mbazzi ..................... 217

1. The War in Northern Uganda ................................. 217
   1.1. “Child soldiers” in the LRA .................................. 218
       1.1.1. Conscription of Minors into the LRA and DDR ...... 218
       1.1.2. Statistics on Abduction .................................. 219
       1.1.3. Mystification of “Child Soldiers” ....................... 220
       1.1.4. The Quantification of Trauma ........................... 220
       1.1.5. The Reintegration of Former “Child Soldiers” in the Context of Northern Uganda ......................... 221
   1.2. Efforts to Establish Peace in Northern Uganda ......... 223
2. Supporting War-Affected Children and Youth Through Education and Gaining Livelihood .............................. 223
   2.1. Vulnerability in the Return and Resettlement Setting ...... 226
   2.2. AVSI’s Programming ........................................ 226
       2.2.1. Identification of Beneficiaries .......................... 227
       2.2.2. Supporting Pre-primary, Primary and Secondary
              Education .................................................. 228
       2.2.3. Supporting Vocational Training ......................... 229
       2.2.4. Training for Teachers and Other School Stakeholders, and Community Sensitisation ......................... 230
       2.2.5. Supporting Livelihoods ................................ 231
              2.2.5.1. Group Dynamics Training .......................... 232
              2.2.5.2. Business Skills Training .......................... 232
              2.2.5.3. Improved Psychosocial Wellbeing ............... 233
              2.2.5.4. Group Businesses Leading to Micro-
                        Enterprises Opportunities ....................... 234
   3. Conclusion ...................................................... 235
Contents

11. Transitional Justice Implications for the Use of Child Soldiers in Eritrea
   Daniel R. Mekonnen .......................................................... 237

1. Introduction ............................................................................. 237
2. Contextual Background .......................................................... 238
3. Excessive militarisation as a major societal evil .................. 243
4. The plight of Eritrean children ............................................. 246
5. Eritrea’s ambivalence to its international obligations and national commitments ................................................. 248
6. Critical challenges and the way forward ............................ 252
7. Concluding remarks .............................................................. 256

12. Children in Twentieth Century Europe Affected by War: Historical Experiences In Giving Them Refuge
   Frank Caestecker ................................................................. 259

1. Introduction ............................................................................. 259
2. War-Affected Children From Spain: Offering Asylum in an Extremely Politically Polarised Situation (1937–39) .......................................................... 259
   2.1. Decision-Making Process Leading to Refuge for War-Affected Basque Children, 1937 .................................................. 260
   2.2. Housing and Care of the Basque Children ........................ 263
   2.3. Repatriation: The Normalisation of Spain at Stake .......... 266
   3.1. Decision-Making Process Leading to Refuge for German Jewish Children .............................................................. 270
   3.2. Housing and Care for German Jewish Child Refugees ...... 274
4. Flight to and Holiday in Switzerland (1940–42) ..................... 275
5. The Long-Term Consequences of The Child Rescue Operations ...... 278
6. Conclusion ............................................................................. 279

PART III
EXPLORING RESOURCES THROUGH EMPIRICAL RESEARCH

13. Life in Rebel Captivity and its Challenges for The Psychosocial Rehabilitation and Reintegration of Former Child Soldiers: The Case of Northern Uganda
   Sofie Vindevogel, Kathleen Coppens, Ilse Derluyn, Gerrit Loots and Eric Broekaert .................................................. 283

1. Introduction ............................................................................. 283
Contents

3. Results .......................................................... 314
3.1. The Process of Rehabilitation in a Rehabilitation Centre:
   an Overview .................................................. 315
   3.1.1. Psychosocial Support ................................ 317
   3.1.2. Leaving the Rehabilitation Centre ................. 325
3.2. After Closing Down the Centre .......................... 326
3.3. Lessons Learned ........................................... 327
   3.3.1. Problems Encountered ................................. 327
   3.3.2. Good and Bad Practices ............................... 329

4. Discussion ..................................................... 330
4.1. Main Goals of inpatient care ............................. 330
4.2. Important Lessons to Take into Consideration when Developing Rehabilitation and Reintegration Programmes for FAC .......................................................... 333
4.3. Limitations of our Research .............................. 337

15. Lessons Learnt From the Rehabilitation and Reintegration of Girl Mothers in Northern Uganda: A Case-Study from Gulu District
   Sarah KAMYA and Charles N. BWANA ......................... 339

   1. Introduction .................................................. 339
   2. Methods ....................................................... 340
   3. Findings ...................................................... 341
      3.1. Rehabilitation and Reintegration Services ......... 342
      3.2. Challenges of Service Providers ................. 343
      3.3. Reintegration Challenges of Girl Mothers ....... 344
   4. Recommendations ............................................ 350
   5. Conclusion .................................................. 351

16. Community-Based Approaches to the Reintegration of Self-Demobilised Child Soldiers: The Case of the Democratic Republic of Congo
   Mulanda JUMA ................................................... 353

   1. Introduction .................................................. 353
   2. Reasons Behind Self-Demobilisation .................... 354
   3. Psychosocial Effects of War on Self-Demobilised Child Soldiers in the DRC ................................................... 357
   4. Psychosocial Reintegration of Self-Demobilised Child Soldiers
      in the DRC ................................................... 358
      4.1. Child Identification .................................. 359
      4.2. Host and Transit Family Identification ........... 360
      4.3. Family Reunification ................................. 360

xxxii
Contents

4.4. Medical Assistance, Stress Management and Trauma Healing ........................................ 360
4.5. Education ................................................................. 361
4.6. Legal Assistance ........................................................ 362

5. Challenges and Lessons Learned From the Reintegration of Self-Demobilised Child Soldiers  ................................................................. 362
5.1. Challenges ................................................................. 362
5.2. Lessons Learned ........................................................ 364

6. Approaches to the Reintegration of Self-Demobilised Child Soldiers and the Role of The Community ................................................................. 366
6.1. Promoting the Dignity of Self-Demobilised Child Soldiers ................................................ 366
6.2. Raising Awareness and Assisting the Community to Mobilise Local Resources ................................. 367
6.2.1. Traditional Healing Mechanisms ..................................... 368
6.2.2. Transformation of Relationships ..................................... 369
6.2.3. Support Groups ........................................................ 370
6.2.4. Creation of Job Opportunities ......................................... 370
6.2.5. Labour-Intensive Public Works Programmes ......................... 371
6.2.6. Agriculture and Fishing .............................................. 372
6.2.7. Education and Training ............................................... 372
6.3. Provision of Basic Stress Management and Trauma Healing Training ........................................... 373
6.3.1. Understanding stress and trauma ...................................... 374
6.3.2. Causes and Effects of Stress and Trauma ............................ 375
6.3.3. Solutions to Stress and Trauma ....................................... 375

7. Conclusion ................................................................. 377

17. Psychosocial Adjustment and Mental Health Services in Post-Conflict Sierra Leone: Experiences of CAAFAG and War-Affected Youth, Families and Service Providers

T.S. BETANCOURT, S.E. ZAEH, A. ETTIEN and L.N. KHAN ........................................ 379

1. Introduction ................................................................. 379
2. Background ................................................................. 382
2.1. The Impact of War on the Mental Health of Youth .................... 382
2.2. A Social Ecological Approach to Risk and Resilience ............... 384
2.3. Service Planning and Implementation: Moving Beyond the “False Dichotomy” Between Clinical Services and Broad-Based Psychosocial Responses .................................................... 385
3. Methods ................................................................. 388
3.1. Sample ................................................................. 388
3.2. Data Analysis ........................................................ 388
4. Results: Situational Analysis and Systems Assessment. .......... 389
   4.1. Situational Analysis .............................................. 390
       4.1.1. Past Trauma Versus Present-Day Stressors .......... 390
       4.1.2. Factors Contributing to Resilience in the Face of Trauma ........................................ 393
       4.1.3. The Status of Systems of Psychosocial Support and Mental Health Services in Sierra Leone .......... 395
       4.1.4. Child Welfare Committees .................................. 397
       4.1.5. The “Informal” Services System: The Extended Family .................................................................. 398
       4.1.6. Traditional and Spiritual Healing .......................... 399
   4.2. Systems Assessment .................................................. 401
       4.2.1. The State of Mental Health Services ...................... 401
       4.2.2. Challenges to Mental Health Services Implementation .................................................. 403
       4.2.3. Funding .............................................................. 403
       4.2.4. Human Resources .................................................. 403
       4.2.5. Government Prioritisation ..................................... 404
5. Limitations of Study and Opportunities for Further Investigation ................................................. 405
6. Conclusions/Recommendations. ........................................ 406
   6.1. The Importance of a Sustainable Mental Health Response .................................................. 406
   6.2. Knowledge from Current Service Models ....................... 407
   6.3. Multi-sectoral, Integrated Approaches to Service Delivery .................................................. 409
   6.4. Thinking Beyond Sierra Leone ...................................... 411
18. The Fit Between Mental Health Needs and Programming Responses for War-Affected Children in Northern Uganda
    James Okello, Ilse Derluyn, Seggane Musisi and Eric Broekaert .... 413
    1. Introduction ............................................................. 413
    2. Traumatising Experiences and Mental Health Needs of War-Affected Children in Northern Uganda ....................... 414
    3. Programming Responses ............................................. 416
    4. Discussion ............................................................... 418
    5. Implications ............................................................. 421
PART IV
LOOKING BACK, REACHING FORWARD

Vanessa Pupavac ..................................................... 425

1. War-affected Children and International Psychosocial Programmes ........................................... 425
2. Cycles of Trauma and Violence? ........................................ 428
3. Contentions over Psychosocial Trauma Models ......................... 431
4. Contentions over Rehabilitation Models. ........................ 433
5. Psychological Crisis of Meaningless .............................. 436
6. Rehabilitating Children to the Struggle for Survival? ........... 439
7. Conclusion .............................................................. 444
8. Bibliography ............................................................ 445

20. Exploring the Context for Adolescent Mental Health and Psychosocial Assistance in The Eastern Democratic Republic of Congo
Cindy Mels, Ilse Derluyn, Eric Broekaert and Koen Vlassenroot ........................................ 451

1. Introduction ............................................................. 451
  1.1. Outlining the Debate on Mental Health Intervention in the Humanitarian Field ................. 453
  1.2. Towards Consensus .............................................. 454
2. Background of the Conflict ......................................... 457
3. Method ................................................................. 459
4. Results ................................................................. 460
  4.1. Separation and the Breakdown of Family Structures ........ 461
  4.2. An Inadequate Framework for the Support of Youngsters ...... 461
  4.3. Constrained Future Perspectives and Opportunities ......... 462
  4.4. Changing Moral Standards .................................... 463
  4.5. New Disturbing Social Phenomena ........................... 463
  4.6. Atmosphere of Interethnic Tension, Hatred and Vengeance ........................................... 464
5. Discussion ............................................................. 465
  5.1. Multi-Layered Needs for Psychosocial Intervention in Ituri .................................................. 466
    Level 1: Basic Services and Security .................................. 466
    Level 2: Community and Family Support ......................... 467
    Level 3: Focussed, Non-Specialised Support .................... 468
    Level 4: Specialised Services ...................................... 468
Contents

5.2. Reflections on the IASC Guidelines .......................... 469
6. Acknowledgements ............................................. 471

21. Still to come .................................................... xx

Yannick Weyns .................................................... 473

1. Children’s Rights, a Tool yet to be Mastered ................. 474
2. Armed Conflict: Detrimental to Children’s Rights, Beneficial to the Children’s Rights Discourse ..................... 475
   2.1. Mapping the Proliferation of Child Soldiers in Eastern Congo .............................................. 475
   2.2. Hot talk: the proliferation of the Human Rights Discourse ..................................................... 477
3. The Intricate Connection Between Children’s Rights and Reintegration Programmes .............................. 478
   3.1. The Children’s Rights Paradigm ............................... 478
   3.2. Laying out the blueprint: a Rights-Based Situation Analysis .................................................... 479
   3.3. Constructing the Intervention ................................ 480
      3.3.1. The Transit Centres ........................................ 480
      3.3.2. Socio-Economic Aid: Livelihood Assistance ........ 481
      3.3.3. Follow-up and Constituency Building ................. 482
   3.4. From a Program for Action to a Standard for Evaluation .......................................................... 483
4. Who is Guarding the Guards? The Evaluation Evaluated .... 483
5. Spirit Possession Amongst the Mayi-Mayi ......................... 485
7. Reintegration, Children Rights as an End or as a Means? . 489
8. The Untapped Reservoir of Cultural Remedies ................ 492
9. Putting Children’s Rights in Perspective ........................ 494

About the Editors .................................................... 497
About the Authors .................................................... 499