Mutual Recognition & Prisoner Transfer in the European Union:
Overcoming legal and practical problems through flanking measures?

Prof. Dr. Gert Vermeulen

Stockholm Criminology Symposium, 14 June 2011
Context

› 1999 – Tampere – MR cornerstone judicial co-operation
› 2000 – Implementation programme: MR designed to › strengthen co-operation between MS
  › enhance protection of individual rights
  › ease process of rehabilitating offenders
  › contribute to legal certainty in the EU
› MR presupposes trust in MS’ criminal justice systems based on a shared commitment to…”respect for human rights, fundamental freedoms and the rule of law”
› today: new ‘detention’ Green Paper adoption at EC level
› parallel launch IRCP detention study (2 books, open access)
The introduction in 2008 of the Framework Decision on the application of the principle of mutual recognition to judgements in criminal matters imposing custodial sentences or measures involving deprivation of liberty for the purpose of their enforcement in the European Union sparked discussions as to whether the practical operation of the instrument would be compatible with its very objective, being the enhancement of detained persons' social rehabilitation prospects.

Transferring detained people back to their respective Member State of residence and/or nationality within the mutual recognition framework is somewhat precarious in light of the often substantial variety of Member States' legal and prison systems. In this context, and following a call for tender by the European Commission, the authors conducted the biggest study to date on Member States' material detention conditions, early/conditional release provisions and sentence execution modalities. In addition to exploring the diversity of legal frameworks, the study also assessed practitioners' views on cross-border execution of custodial sentences in the EU.

This book contains both the EU level legal and practitioners' analyses as well as the high level final report to the study confirming preliminary concerns that flanking measures are urgently needed for a proper operation of the Framework Decision.

This is essential reading for EU policy makers, judicial and law enforcement authorities and for defence lawyers throughout the Union. Undoubtedly, this book will be an asset to everyone who is involved in or taking an interest in detention issues and cross-border execution of judgements involving deprivation of liberty in the EU.

Principal MR characteristics

- issuing state and executing state
  - not merely a matter of new terminology
- based on issuing/execution of
  - ‘order + certificate’ or ‘genuine warrant’
- no more exequatur/conversion/locus-based procedure
  - at least not initially (e.g. EAW & EC explanatory report)
  - in meantime: changed a bit (e.g. custodial sentences)
- no more dual criminality requirement
  - for standardised list 32+ offence types
  - according to definition issuing MS (+ punishable 3y+)
- roll-out through FDs, including on custodial sentences
2008 FD on MR custodial sentences

> revisiting 2002 FD on the EAW for ‘transfer back home’ and aut dedere aut exequi scenario’s > + new autonomous compulsory transfer of prisoner mechanism to MS of nationality and residence > buzzwords (official rationale)
  > social rehabilitation and successful reintegration > however position prisoner/executing MS radically changed > antecedents
  > 1983 CoE transfer of prisoner Convention + 1997 Protocol > assessment (IRCP study – methodology)
  > MR creates new problems
  > flanking measures to be considered
Methodology

Problems (1)

› social rehabilitation (cornerstone)
  › info on material detention conditions
  › standards relating to the progression principle, to ties with friends and family and to educational, recreational, work/training and welfare programmes

› knowledge of the FD and (access to) information on foreign law & practices

› compulsory nature FD & poor procedural status

› dual criminality issues

› significant variations in MS’ sentence execution modalities & early/conditional release, earned remission and suspension of sentence provisions
Problems (2)

- subordinate material detention conditions (highlights)
  - overcrowding: cell sharing, cell size and cell capacity
  - sanitation facilities, clothing, bedding and nutrition: privacy, screening and appropriate clothing
  - health care: injury detection, women’s health care, forced feeding and hunger strikers, monitoring prisoners at risk of suicide, medical examination (upon arrival), accommodation of vulnerable prisoners
  - other: special cells, recording, staff contact, monitoring, security assessments, protection status and strip searches
Flanking measures (1)

- enhancing knowledge and (access to) information
  - implementation handbook, training and monitoring
  - access to information
- protection of prisoners’ (fundamental) rights by improving material detention conditions
  - training and best practice promotion
  - increasing the frequency of CPT inspections
  - introducing binding European minimum standards
    - need – EU competence – political feasibility
Flanking measures (2)

- maintaining the double criminality requirement (+ EULOCS)
- safeguarding sentencing equivalence & supporting sentence execution through
  - approximation: 2 generic severity rankings
  - dual lex mitior + no unreasonable aggravation (review)
- improving prisoners’ procedural rights
  - introducing a motivational duty for issuing states
    - including re sufficiently high material conditions
  - right to an ‘informed’ opinion + to legal assistance
  - competent authorities necessarily judicial bodies?
  - no, but right to a judicial review
