Notes on Linguistic Ethnography as a Liminal Activity

Geret Jacobs and Steve Stemrhoz

The dual voice of dominance: ritual and power in a British Embassy

Ellen Van Prael

Institutions

Residential child care institutions as paradoxical

Institutions as a flow of social practices: The case of

Linguistic ethnography and the study of welfare

Manuel Palomares and David Poveda

Framing the news: an ethnographic view of business

Tom Van Houwelingen and Felicia Macagno-Rist

Professional orientation in back region humour

Keith Rihards

Settings

Addiction: institutional language policies in educational

Debt perceptions on communicative practices in South

Vermelho and Vermeeren

Mike Van Herreweghe and Myriam

Responsibilities in workplace settings

Access all areas: identity issues and researcher

Julie Johnson

Perspectives on institutional discourses

Introduction: among Linguistic Ethnography

Peter Flynn, Ellen Van Prael and Geret Jacobs